CAT 2016

CAT is conducted not just for the IIMs but a host of other Indian B-schools

A good CAT 2016 score is your key to the best MBA colleges

IIMs, IITs & top B-schools accept CAT scores

The Common Admission Test or CAT is a national level management aptitude test conducted by the Indian Institutes of Management for admission to their various management programs. This year, the first part of the exam, i.e. the computer-based test took place on 4 December, 2016 and it was conducted by IIM Bangalore. The reason for CAT being so popular is because all the IIMs & IITs accept CAT scores for admission to their management programs. This year, all the 20 IIMs and 6 IITs are accepting CAT scores. Apart from these, CAT scores will also be accepted by more than 100 colleges from 21 states in India will accept for admission to their MBA/management programs.

Every B-school sets a “cut-off” CAT percentile basis which they shortlist candidates for the next round of selection i.e. Group Discussions (GD)/ Essay writing/ Personal Interviews (PI) .

We have compiled the list of management institutions that use CAT 2016 scores and the expected cut-offs, so that you can start applying to MBA colleges accordingly.
